Author and Job Role: Damian Markland, Victims Policy Officer

Protective Marking: Part One

1.0 Executive Summary

In October 2014, the Police and Crime Commissioner took responsibility for commissioning support services for victims of crime to help them cope and recover.

For the financial year of 2016/17 the PCC was allocated £1,372,554 by the Ministry of Justice for the commissioning and/or provision of emotional and practical support services for victims' of crime.

2 applications for small grant funding to provide specialist services to victims of crime have been agreed by the Commissioner.

A total of £14,100 in grant funding was awarded.

2.0 Applications

The following provides an overview of the grant applications received and recommended for approval:

a) Reigate & Banstead Women's Aid Refuge

To award £4,100 to undertake essential security work, recommended by the Police.

b) RASASC

The OPCC funds the provision of a Child Independent Sexual Violence Adviser (CISVA), based out of CAMHS. During 2016/17 there was a gap in service due to the resignation of the post-holder. During this period RASASC provided cover, supporting 32 children and young people, aged 13-17. The OPCC has agreed to provide a one-off payment of £5,000 to RASASC, to offset the costs incurred during this period.

c) North Surrey Domestic Abuse Service

To award £5,000 to enhance the services to victims of domestic abuse in the Elmbridge area through the recruitment and training of new volunteers who will be able to provide longer term sustained support that will assist victims in their recovery.

3.0 Police and Crime Commissioner Approval

I approve the recommendations as detailed in Section 2.0 of this report.
